

Taking Responsibility of Military Personnel by Building Safety Culture

KOSHA signs MOU with the Korean Army to establish safety culture, and cooperate in developing professional safety and health instructors and construct a systematic safety and health management system.

- Korea Occupational Safety and Health Agency(KOSHA) and the Korean Army (Chief of staff: Chang Jun-Gyu) signed an 『MOU to Establish Safety Culture』 at the Army Headquarters located in Gyeryong City, Chungcheongnam Province, on May 30.
- This MOU is promoted to raise the awareness of safety among related officials in the Korean Army by establishing safety culture, to secure the safety of military personnel by preventing safety accidents in the military and to strengthen the safety of organization based on a system.

◆ Summary of the MOU ceremony for establishment of safety culture

—Time and venue : May 30, 2017(Tues). 14:00,
Korean Army Headquarters located in Gyerong
City

—Attendants: President Lee Young-Soon of KOSHA,
Chief of staff Chang Jun-Gyu

- Under this MOU, KOSHA will provide △ safety and health training sessions, △ develop professional safety and health instructors, provide △ educational materials and △ construct resources for the safety of military personnel such as a safety and health management system.
- President Lee Young-Soon of KOSHA said "by raising the wareness of military personnel regarding safety and health, who are waiting to enter the society and become our future industrial manpower, it is possible to prevent not only the safety accidents in the military but also prevent industrial disasters", and also added "KOSHA will make every effort by providing continued training and safety and training management system to the Army".

- Chief of staff, Chang Jun-Gyu said "the Korean Army itself made a lot of efforts so far, but if safety culture can be established in the military with this MOU, it will be a lot of help in preserving the combating power as well", and also added "moreover, the safety awareness that the military personnel obtained during their military service will be a great contribution for laying the foundations of a safe Korea as well". (End)